

The COMMONS
AT BLACKBUSH

In the 1880 Meacham's Atlas, there was a common area in Grand Tracadie that is referred to as the "Commons". Within the Commons area, people harvested food and shared the space with the surrounding Community. Today it's where the St. Michael's Parish is located. This is where we take our name from, to provide a Community within a Community.

The Commons at Blackbush offers year-round beach-side living opportunities in Prince Edward Island, consisting of 20 fractional units, just steps from the sandy beaches of the Gulf of St. Lawrence and minutes from the City of Charlottetown, the birthplace of Confederation. Blackbush at Old Tracadie Harbour provides owners and guests with premium hospitality amongst the natural wonder of a rare oceanside ecosystem so rich in histosrey.

The property will be offering service and amenities to provide all comforts for residents and guests on site, as well as rental marketing and year-round property management on income producing rental properties.
